Developing Nyambu Village into an ecotourism destination

Environmentally friendly Nyambu Village in Tabanan, Bali, was recently launched as an ecotourism destination, with support and funding from various stakeholders.

Nyambu Village, which is situated three kilometers south of Klungkung Regency, has received great support and encouragement from local communities and stakeholders under the auspices of local government. Nyambu Village is also an ancient Balinese village with a long history dating back to the 15th century, under the Majapahit Kingdom, who once visited Mundah Village, is located in Kediri Village, Klungkung Regency. An independent village within the subak system, under which the water-gate — the main water source that serves as an assembly point to collect and distribute vital assets — allowed for a fair distribution of water among the villagers.

Nyambu is a traditional Balinese village that is often described as an ancient Balinese village with a long history dating back to the Majapahit Kingdom, who once visited Mundah Village, is located in Kediri Village, Klungkung Regency. An independent village within the subak system, under which the water-gate — the main water source that serves as an assembly point to collect and distribute vital assets — allowed for a fair distribution of water among the villagers.

The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program, conducted jointly by several local tourism-related institutions, aims to boost the people's economy. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Located at Mundah Village, Nyambu Village is situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.

Nyambu Village has ecological advantages and is an ideal place to teach the young about the importance of the environment. It is an urban village, situated near a tall and shady tree, which also made several stops, listening to the people in the world. The community-based Nyambu Village ecotourism program in Nyambu Village was in line with the local government's efforts to utilize the village's rich culture and natural assets, as well as to enable the ecotourism program to bring about positive benefits for the local community and the tourism sector.